

ClearLink PRO™

Drinking Water Accessory

EXPERIENCE THE DIFFERENCE CULLIGAN CAN MAKE.

BENEFITS

- Use your existing faucet eliminating the need to drill a hole
- Wireless technology allows you to place the ClearLink PRO™ button virtually anywhere
- Integrated filter life indicator takes the guesswork out of when to replace filters
- Water quality monitor ensures you have the best quality water at all times
- Filtered water can be added to any room with a sink

Filtered Water From Your Current Faucet

ClearLink PRO™ is a first-to-market wireless control system that allows you to get Culligan® filtered water from your main faucet. Until now, installing an RO system required a dedicated faucet which meant drilling a hole or losing a soap dispenser. Now you can use your existing faucet to wash vegetables with your sprayer, fill pots for cooking, or simply enjoy a glass of filtered water.

Features

Filter life gauge ensures your system is producing the best quality water

LED backlight display shows when filtered water is flowing

On trend design in multiple finishes to compliment today's kitchen decor

The alert indicator illuminates when the filters, RO membrane, or batteries need to be replaced

How Does it Work

ClearLink PRO™ utilizes wireless technology to switch the main faucet between unfiltered and filtered water at the touch of a button.

The ClearLink PRO™ control box is installed on the main water line and connected to the Culligan® water filter. For filtered water, turn on the cold water, push the ClearLink PRO™ button, and in a few seconds you have RO water at the main faucet.

When you're done, simply turn off the water and the system will automatically divert back to unfiltered water ensuring you do not waste filtered water.
